

From: IN%"ccimh@manta.jcu.edu.au" "Ian Hunter" 22-NOV-1992 17:11:47.26
To: IN%"CCCOULTER@uqvox.cc.uq.oz.au"
CC:
Subj: RE: CTISS Contacts in Australia

Alan

> Alex Reid sent out a list of people from Australian Universities who > had made contact with Computers in Teaching Initiative Support Service > at Oxford. As I did not notice any UQ contacts and your name was > included, I would be grateful if you would let me know what it is > about and if it is worth being on the mailing list. A photocopy of > any recent literature would be helpful.

I will talk to you about this next Sunday and also bring with me a copy of some of the recent info.

I have been a subscriber for some years now and have found it quite useful from time to time. CTISS is a "UK-wide" initiative which involves numerous (I think about 36) Centres in as many Universities which specialise in production of software for specific areas of teaching - one does Chemistry, one does Maths etc. It was quite heavily funded by central sources in UK initially. I get the impression that it has not been as successful as had been hoped, but that it has done some good work.

It costs peanuts to subscribe (Free from memory). I will bring details of that too.

I leave here Tuesday a.m. for Adelaided/Melbourne/Adelaide again/Sydney/Brisbane (next Sunday morning) and will be out of touch basically all week, although my secretary knows where to contact me.

Regards

Ian

--

Ian M. Hunter
Director, Computer Centre
James Cook University TOWNSVILLE
QLD 4811
AUSTRALIA

e-mail: ccimh@jcu.edu.au

fax: +61 77 796371
phone: +61 77 814275

Dunlop's Meety Sunday