The Prentice Centre opens Shop

The Prentice Centre is selling computing and audio-visual products at cheap prices to University staff and students.

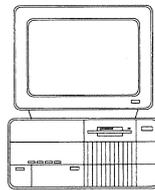

Customers can purchase audio-visual products such as video cassettes, audio cassettes, batteries, and film at educational discounted prices. See the back page for the full list of audio-visual products and prices.

A wide range of discounted software packages has always been available at the Centre. These will now be on display in the shop for customers to inspect and evaluate. Below is a list of some popular packages the Centre sells, but there are many more available. Orders for software can be placed in the shop.

As well as software, many hardware vendors will display PCs in the shop. Customers will be able to see several different brands of computers at one venue. This will remove the present need to visit several locations to view these brands. Buyers can then approach the vendors to purchase the equipment.

The shop is located on Level 2 (ground floor) of the Prentice Building. Doors open in Orientation week (20 February 1991). Opening hours will be Monday to Friday, 8.30 am to 4.30 pm.

Photography produces Teaching Slides

Do you need to have high quality presentation material for your next conference or seminar? Photography can produce high quality computer generated graphics or charts on 35 mm transparencies or overhead transparencies (and hard copy too!).

All we need from you is the information you need on the slide in whatever form you have it—from handwritten notes to spreadsheets and charts (e.g., Excel, Lotus 1-2-3, Quattro-Pro) on a floppy disk.

Interested? Call Cliff Leigh on 365 2433.
